SEN. LA FOLLETTE BOOM FOR PRESIDENT OFFICIALLY LAUNCHED

FAVORITE SON IS BEFORE PEOPLE

OFFICIAL PAPER MAKES AN INSPIRED STATEMENT

WILL BE STRONG IN WEST

Stalwarts Said to Have Agreed to Sending of Solid Wisconsin Delegation

The anticipated La Follette boom for republican nomination in the presidential campaign a little more than a year hence has been sprung. La Follette is candidate for the honor.

The official announcement was made in the Milwaukee Free Press Sunday morning. While it contained no suggestion that the publication had the knowledge or approval of Senator La Follette, the fact that the Free Press is his official organ lends to the article all the force that goes with recognized authoritative inspiration.

The Favorite Son

The appearance of Senator La Follette as a candidate was expected. In one view of it, it is part of the "Favorite Son" movement which is in some high quarters regarded as an organized plan to defeat President Roosevelt's purpose to force the nomination of Secretary Taft. However, it is probably involved in that movement by a more direct and positive force. La Follette is thought to be too dangerous an opponent to permit other aspirants to look with favor on his coming out.

The La Follette movement is wider than most Wisconsin people appreciate. He is widely known and much appreciated throughout the country, and his presence in the contest is likely to be felt.

No Opposition Expected

His position at home is not so bad as the casual observer might guess. It is told in well informed quarters that Charles Pfister has been seen, and that he will enter the movement to give the senator a solid delegation to the national convention. Mr. Pfister is said to have made the concession on the ground of state pride, but there are those who see in the settlement of the Milwaukee public utility fights and in Pfister's support of, or at least refusal to oppose, the election of Mr. Stephenson, more substantial grounds for a probably passive support of La Follette by the associates and the newspaper of the daddy of the stalwart wing. Thus far the Sentinel, Mr. Pfister's paper has said nothing of La Follette's candidacy, but a failure to oppose, or at most a mild support later on, is all that can logically be expected.

The Announcement

The official announcement of Senator La Follette's candidacy in the Free Press follows:
"Before the present legislative session adjourns there will have been launched in Wisconsin a movement to send to the next republican national convention a Wisconsin delegation which shall be for Senator Robert M. La Follette."

"First steps in this movement already have been taken in Milwaukee. Advice from a number of state cities are to the effect that just as soon as the movement takes definite form it will be advanced all over the state. The movement is for a pure La Follette delegation. It considers no second choice candidates. Ohio is to send a simon-pure Taft delegation without mention of a second choice."

"Then why should Wisconsin consider second choices, when other states which have favorite sons are not mentioning second choices?" said one of the leaders in the movement Saturday.

"A meeting was held in the offices of Court Commissioner William J. McElroy and Attorney Fred C. Lorenz, Loan and Trust building, on Saturday night, at which the movement was thoroughly talked over. This week there will be another meeting of La Follette men in Milwaukee, at which it will be given definite form. Those who are behind the movement for a La Follette delegation have been carefully taking note of La Follette sentiment in Wisconsin and all over the United States for several months."

"In the west La Follette sentiment is strong. In the southwest there is a growing demand for the nomination of La Follette, and all through the south sentiment has been gathering impressive strength for three years. Senator La Follette has lectured all over the United States during the past eight or ten years, and every voter who has heard him discuss the great questions of the day was convinced

MADER WINS PRIZE

Owing to wet and stormy weather attendance at the regular weekly shoot of the La Crosse Sharpshooters' association was not very good yesterday, but nevertheless some very good scores were made.

Frank Mader, a new member, distinguished himself by capturing the B class medal. Mr. Mader is doing some exceptional shooting for a new member, and his rapid advancement is looked for.

John Mohr on the union target made one of the biggest scores on record this season. Mr. Mohr's score was 72 out of a possible 75.

These scores are all prize winners, and La Crosse shooters are confident that they will more than hold their own when they meet the Northwestern Sharpshooters at Milwaukee this summer.

REV MOLLER GIVES STRONG MEMORIAL ADDRESS

VETERANS ARE IN FORCE

Rector of Christ Episcopal Church Speaks to More Than 200 Old Soldiers

More than two hundred Grand Army and Spanish war veterans yesterday listened to a powerful address upon Memorial day and the lessons of the great war by Rev. C. N. Moller, rector of Christ Episcopal church.

Veterans from the Wilson-Colwell and William McKinley posts and from the Spanish War Veterans attended the morning service and the attendance was much larger than in former years, despite the fact that the lines of the old soldiers are fast thinning.

The Rev. Moller took as his text: "And I will make of them one nation." Ezek. XXXVII., 22. Righteousness exalteth a nation, but a sin is a reproach to any people." Prov. XIV. 34.

He said: "It is my privilege, in the name of the people of Christ church, to extend a most cordial greeting to the members of the G. A. R. and the representatives of the Ladies' Relief corps."

"Your presence here recalls not only the most critical period of national history, but especially the great sacrifice of human life and the awfulness of human suffering that was necessary to save the union and establish an honorable and abiding peace."

"This solemn commemoration sounds the note of sacrifice. It speaks of the great offering of a mighty host of men, the offering of a great enthusiasm for a righteous cause, the offering of patriotic devotion, the offering of all that men could give in the hour of their country's peril."

"The Altar of Sacrifice." "In the heart and center of all the great religions of the world we find the altar of sacrifice. It proclaims the limitless aspiration of the human soul and the sense of responsibility to the Eternal and Invisible. In the life of every nation, we also find in a mystical sense, at least, an altar of sacrifice and in a real sense, the record of thousands of lives that have felt the greater responsibility of their duty to their country. This country of ours has a comparatively brief history, but its altar of sacrifice for the commonwealth bears the richest offerings, the most precious gifts of a mighty people for a righteous cause."

G. A. R. Heroism Notable "The heroism, the fortitude, the triumphs, the sacrifice of the Grand Army of the Republic are as notable as can be found in the history of the greatest empires and will ever live in the memory of our people and prompt a heart felt devotion of praise and thanksgiving to the God of nations. The great peace movement of modern nations is the sign above all others in national life, that the world is moving onward and upward toward happier conditions. But peace, perfect peace, is not to be attained by sinful man. God does not need to be propitiated by human blood or the sacrifices and horrors of war, but as a God of Righteousness, He has declared war against sin and selfishness and has taught us by His own example as the Saviour of the World, that there can be no peace with sin, no compromise with injustice, no concessions to opposition to the common good. As much as peace is to be desired yet peace with unrighteousness is a deadly crime, peace

To Adjourn Wednesday. An attempt will be made to adjourn the legislature Wednesday until a week from Tuesday in order to give the members an opportunity to spend Memorial day at home.

There is, however, some opposition to this movement, especially upon the part of the farmer members of the legislature, who claim this will make the session hang on much longer. The movement for adjournment is being led by Assemblyman Durley. He says the session will hang on until June 20, anyway.

HUMANE SOCIETY PROSECUTES

Also Beat His Wife. Employed at Residence of J. J. Hill.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 27.—The St. Paul Humane society has unearthed a most shocking indignity.

John Downey, 8 years of age, living with his parents, was found by an agent of the society, bound with an enormous chain three feet in length, and fastened with a heavy padlock, to which was hung a brass padlock. To the other end of the chain was secured a heavy piece of iron of over a foot in length and one and a quarter inches square.

The boy has never liked to go to school and upon his refusal a month ago the father beat him unmercifully with a horse whip, after which he procured the chain and fastened it to the boy's leg. There it remained until the boy was found by the humane society agent. The little fellow felt so ashamed of the indignity that when found he was sitting on the porch with his leg covered by a piece of carpet so that "the boys would not know."

John Downey, the boy's father, is engineer at the residence of James J. Hill. He has been said to caution his wife not to partake of any food in his absence. In the event that she disobeyed the command Downey would beat her. The small lad has always lived in constant terror of his father.

NO DISPLAY AT THE FUNERAL

All Ostentation and Military Effect Will Be Eliminated—Cortelyou in Charge of Obsequies

CANTON, Ohio, May 27.—At 1:05 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mrs. William McKinley fell into the sleep that knows no awakening. The transition from life to death was so peaceful and gradual that it was with difficulty the vigilant physicians and attendants noted when dissolution came.

There was no struggle, no pain. Mrs. McKinley never knew of the efforts made for days to prolong her life, nor of the solicited hope against hope of her sister and other relatives and friends for her recovery.

There will be no ostentation at the funeral of Mrs. McKinley. Even the coming of the president and cabinet members will not be accompanied by a ceremonious pageant, and the army and navy representatives will not be in uniform. Arrangements were completed today by Secretary Cortelyou for the factories and stores of Canton to close at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the hour of the funeral, and it is expected the schools will close at noon Wednesday. She will be interred in the grass plot beside her husband's vault in Woodlawn cemetery.

May Lie in State.

The body may lie in state, though the opposition of relatives makes this uncertain. If it does it will be in the Methodist church. The pallbearers, the first five of whom served for her husband, are: Henry Porter, John C. Dueber, Joseph Blachie, A. Cassidy, Geo. E. Freese, Austin Lynch, Justice Day, R. S. Shield, C. C. Bow. Justice Day is accompanying his family. Day was one of the late president's pallbearers. Of the others Judge McCarthy is ill and William A. Lunch is dead.

Cortelyou in Charge

Secretary Cortelyou is directing the arrangements.

It was announced last night that President Roosevelt and Secretary Loeb will arrive at Canton Wednesday morning to attend the funeral services.

NURSE GIRL NOW IN TOILS

Four Day Old Babe Is Restored to Anxious Parent After Vigorous Pursuit.

SUPERIOR, Wis., May 27.—The 4 day old baby of Mrs. Edwin Giauque, for which the entire police force of Minneapolis has been searching for two days, was found here. Fast asleep in its cradle at the Superior Children's home, the babe was found by Detective R. A. Dill and Leut. Darwin Scoon, who shortly before midnight received word from Minneapolis that the Polish nurse girl had taken the train for Superior.

The entire police force of Minneapolis yesterday took up the trail of the little Polish nurse girl, who walked out of the Giauque home while the mother slept.

The theft of the baby, a little girl, Mrs. Giauque's first born, stirred the city from end to end. Additional interest was given to the kidnapping by a story told by Mrs. Giauque's mother to the police. This was to the effect that on the day she was hired to help the young mother look after the child the nurse girl attempted to chloroform the mother as she lay in bed.

First, the immediate opportunity they offer the public of securing high-grade Pianos in fine condition, much under their real value. Second, (and this is equally important), the unmistakable impression that such a collection conveys of the tremendous success of the Weber Piano and Pianola Piano.

The Chicago Americans had hard work to take home from New York between rain storms, the visitors dragging the inning out in the hope of securing a "na game" decision after the score piled up was 8 to 1 against them.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH PLAY
HERE YESTERDAY

Viroqua lost a game to the W. B. U. Athletics at the League park yesterday afternoon. Although the grounds were muddy and it rained throughout the five innings played, both teams played perfect ball. The Athletics started to score in the first after two men were out, Kirchie's getting a hit and scored on Swan's three-bagger. Swan scored on a passed ball by Harris. Viroqua scored in the second, securing in that inning three hits. An error by Gillis in the left garden gave them their three runs. The Athletics scored again in the fifth, Johnson leading off with a hit and was sacrificed by Riley to second. Kirchie's followed with a hit scoring Johnson. Swan followed with another hit. Konetchy struck out and Gillis scored Kirchie's and Swan with a two-bagger. Umpire Mueller called the game on account of wet grounds, at this stage. The grounds were in a very muddy condition and both team captains agreed on calling the game in the fifth.

Next Sunday the Athletics go to Lansing to meet the Iowa team. They will go down by boat and will take with them a few friends.

Decorations day they go to St. Charles, Minn. St. Charles on that day will have horse races and a ball game.

Owing to the weather there were few people from Viroqua with the Viroqua team. Threatening skies in the morning and rain in the afternoon almost turning to freezing weather interfered materially with the day's sport.

MOLL WILL STAND PAT FOR DOLAN

INTERVIEW GIVEN FREEPORT
NEWSPAPER SO INDICATES

BUBSER NOT ON WARPAT

Outcome Will Be Positively Known
When Reply to La Crosse Letter Comes.

It is evident that President Moll, of the state league, has no intention of revising his decision to permit Rowdy Dolan to continue playing on probation. It is intimated that the whiskey business is pretty good in Oshkosh and that the vice-president of the league has business relations with the president giving him undue influence. Moll's position is probably accurately defined in an interview said to have been given by him to the correspondent of a Freeport newspaper, which is as follows:

Only Fines Imposed.

"When asked what further action would be taken in the case of Alvin Dolan, the Oshkosh player who was fined and suspended for an alleged assault upon Umpire Sweeney at La Crosse last Sunday, Mr. Moll replied that Dolan is playing on probation and will be permitted to continue playing as long as his conduct does not necessitate the execution of the sentence of suspension. The fine, however, will have to be paid, as will also the $10 fines levied against Shortstop Schreiner and First Baseman Bourgeois, who were mixed up in the same trouble at La Crosse. Dolan's fine is $15.

"All such fines must be paid within five days from the time they are assessed, so that those against Dolan, Schreiner and Bourgeois must be paid by tomorrow. Non-payment means that the players will be suspended until they are paid after the expiration of the five days.

"Mr. Moll says that he is determined to eliminate rowdiness from the state league and that the players might just as well understand that now as later. To this end he is endeavoring to secure umpires who are competent and of a character that will not permit of their being browbeaten or defied by players or their managers. He has secured a new umpire to take the place of 'Nick' Maiven, who has been released."

Bubser's Peaceful Mood.

Manager Bubser, who made some untrue assertions about the La Crosse incident provided he was correctly quoted in Oshkosh, has now assumed a conciliatory attitude that may tend to mitigate the feeling ill will that has been engendered. However, so far no response has been received to the drastic letter criticizing President Moll, that was mailed to him Saturday by the officers and directors of the La Crosse club. The final outcome of the affair can be accurately guessed when a reply is received. The letter to Moll was as follows:

The Letter.

Mr. Charles Moll,
Dear Sir: The undersigned board of directors, who were present at the ball game between Oshkosh and La Crosse, (Continued on Page Six.)

WAUSAU, Wis., May 27.—(Special)—In a well contested game yesterday afternoon, the last four innings of which was played in a driving snow storm, the La Crosse Giants beat the Wausau Lumberjacks by a score of 4 to 1. La Crosse got the game in the fifth inning, getting in three runs during a temporary weakening of Todd, who was doing the twirling for Wausau. As a whole, Todd put up a better game than his rival Baillies, who pitched for La Crosse, coming out of the battle with a record of seven strikeouts against Baillies' three. But five hits were made off Todd while the Lumberjacks swatted Baillies for seven.

In spite of the weather a big crowd witnessed the game. The grandstand and bleachers were filled and there was an enthusiastic bunch of fans on the side lines. The rooting was scarcely up to Wausau form owing to the weather. Although Wausau lost the game the boys showed form that pleased the bleachers and there was nothing but good words for the members of the team when the game was ended.

Todd's pitching was easily the feature of the game. His work was smooth and the sort that gets results and that with a muddy box and a slippery ball. The fans look to great things from him before the season is ended.

The game was devoid of sensational features; the scores being earned by straight baseball. Work in the field was as rapid and accurate as could be expected considering the condition of the grounds which had been soaked with a two-day downfall of rain.

The scoring was started by Medwizky for the visitors in the second. After Konetchy and Cahill had both been retired, the first on a fly to center and the second on a grounder to the second baseman, which arrived before him at first, Medwizky made a weak hit to short stop. The short stop threw the ball over the first baseman's head and Medwizky went to second. Killian followed to bat and made a hit than advanced Medwizky to third, and stole second himself. Winningham secured first through an error of McCauley and Medwizky scored. That was the beginning. It secured the lead for La Crosse and they easily maintained it throughout the remainder of the game.

SPILLING MORE MILK.

Publisher Gessler, of the Bangor Independent, is shocked and surprised that THE TRIBUNE could regard anything done by Senator La Follette as wrong. It advises us to "forget" the Stephenson fiasco. In truth, we had. But that is the single disadvantage of running a weekly paper, and instead of causing us to forget it, the Independent reminds us of it. Our good friend Gessler sometimes forgets that he has a sharp pen, but in his mastery (from his standpoint) castigation of THE TRIBUNE he performed like the kindly old pappy who originated the paternal suggestion, "It hurts me worse than it hurts you, my son."

Well, anyway, this is what Publisher Gessler said to us:

"CRYING AFTER SPILLED MILK: The Independent regrets to see its esteemed contemporary the La Crosse Tribune join the Milwaukee Journal and other hybrid organs in a mournful wail over the election of the Hon. Isaac Stephenson to the United States senate. The Tribune is usually such a broad and fair-minded journal that its course in the present instance is all the more regrettable."

"Isaac Stephenson was the logical candidate, and Esch, Hatten, Cooper, Lenroot, et al really had no license to run at all. The election should have been conceded to Mr. Stephenson at the outset. He was clearly entitled to it, was the choice of the overwhelming majority of the people of the state and should have been elected hands down. Esch was not a factor in the race at all and at no time was he even a ten to one shot. The same may be said of Cooper and Lenroot. Hatten was dangerous only through the unreasonable hostility of the Esch-Hatten-stalwart combine, but prior to that he was a minor quantity the same as his confederates. He is hardly of senatorial size—although a growing man—and was not desired by any considerable number of people outside his district."

"Nor will the coarse abuse of Hon. Herman L. Ekern of Trempealeau (which The Tribune quotes so approvingly from the Milwaukee Journal) profit The Tribune or Mr. Esch. The cheerful intimation that Mr. Ekern is a candidate for the Down and Out Club may frighten children and babes, but will hardly terrorize grown up men. We have no means of knowing the sentiment of the people of Mr. Ekern's district in regard to his course in the senatorial fight, but judging from the sentiment of many of the voters of Bangor and vicinity Mr. Ekern's popularity has not been impaired to any great alarming extent. On the contrary, his firm, independent course meets with approval."

"The best thing the esteemed Tribune can do is 'to forget it.' Leave a monopoly of that sort of thing to the Leader-Press, Chronicle and other reactionaries. You are following a blind lead."

"Mr. Stephenson was elected because he deserved to be, and, baring the Milwaukee Journal and its satellites, his election meets with approval throughout the state. The suggestion that Mr. Esch will never again have so favorable an opportunity to go to the senate is puerile. If he is as strong before the voters of the state as the La Crosse papers would have us believe—if his ability is of such surpassing order as we have been so insistently told—he should have a walk away for the senatorship twenty-one months hence at the primary election. We have a gaunt, hollow-eyed suspicion, however, that Mr. Esch and his admirers do not take such a rosy view of the matter and deem discretion the better part of valor—a view which will, we believe, be generally acquiesced in."

We can't conscientiously accuse The Independent of the band-wagon habit. It hasn't been in the habit of mounting that vehicle unless it was going its way. But there is something in Mr. Gessler's attitude about Stephenson that we cannot understand. Mr. Gessler will hardly have the courage to say that he believes Senator Stephenson was built for the job in the first place. He will hardly assert that his political conduct up to the time he began his career of vengeance was of the right sort. He will not, we think, claim that the new incumbent is in a state of physical and mental preservation calculated to make him useful. We can't understand it, and we are going to ask Mr. Gessler a question that we confess we cannot answer. What is there in the qualifications and character of Mr. Stephenson to justify his election? Never mind the money.

The best reason why The Independent should have hesitated to say that, "Stephenson was the logical candidate, and Esch, Hatten, Cooper, Lenroot et al had no license to run," and that "he (Stephenson) was clearly entitled to it and was the choice of the overwhelming majority of the people of the state," is that nine readers out of ten will realize that it is just as foolish as it sounds, and will wonder why an "independent" and level headed paper published it. We will pass Mr. Esch by, because we must admit a little prejudice in his favor. But we can discuss Hatten without bias. "Stephenson was the logical candidate," and "Hatten had no license to run." What's the use?

THE TRIBUNE is a La Follette newspaper, in the sense that it believes implicitly in most of his undertakings. It has supported his policies so far as it believed them right, and that was most of the way. It has not changed its attitude toward him, excepting in that it realizes that he is sufficiently mere man to let personal obligation to an individual interfere with his duty to the public. It was a most embarrassing hole that La Follette was in, and in getting out of it the wrong way he has fallen into another.

Just once, the answer: The TRIBUNE does not approve a La Follette-Connor combine to send to the senate a man of self-confessed objectionable record, a reformer for revenge, having no experience to give him potency, handicapped by the burden of nearly eighty years, never a statesman, a partaker in the profits of the so-called lumber trust, a man whose only claim to the office is that he gave money to the cause of reform. In the title to its editorial, "Crying Over Spilled Milk," the Independent admits that the position of THE TRIBUNE is correct.

That is the answer. However, we are going to "forget it." It is done, and as Mr. Gessler intimates, there is no use "crying over spilled milk."

WITTY REPORTS IN HISTORY

(From the London Globe.)

Brevity has been the marked characteristic of many happy retorts. What could be more crushing, more grimly witty, than the reply attributed to Tallyrand on an occasion when a certain notorious personage, ill and in great pain, said that he was suffering the torments of the lost. Swiftly came the wicked retort: "Deja"—already?

Of a different complexion, but equally exemplifying the soul of wit, was the reply, which has been attributed to various painters, to a questioner who wished to know the vehicle with which the painter mixed his colors. Dr. John Brown tells the story of Opie. "Pray, Mr. Opie, may I ask what you mix your colors with?" said a brisk dilettante student to the great painter. "With brains, sir," was the gruff reply—and the right one."

Single word replies, more or less witty, are fairly common. A patient whom the famous Dr. Abernethy had advised to take a walk on an empty stomach calmly replied, "Whose?" A recent example was the answer of the late Dean Hole to a boring Cockney fellow traveler on the Great Northern railway. "What comes after itchin'?" asked the bore. "Scratchin'," came the swift retort, and thereafter the conversation flagged.

Many brief telling replies are laid to the account of Douglas Jerrold. It will suffice to recall one. "What's going on?" said a bore, stopping Jerrold in the street. "I am," and the speaker suited the action to the word. Akin to this was the answer of John Wesley to the blustering swaggler who pushed against him on the path, with the insulting remark: "I never make way for a fool." "I always do," replied Wesley, quietly stepping aside, and then placidly pursuing his way.

Brief and witty was the reply of a Catholic cleric to an opponent in argument who had declared his disbelief in purgatory. "You might go farther and fare worse," was the ecclesiastic's parting shot. The wit of more than one of Dr. Johnson's crushing retorts was enhanced by brevity, but examples are too familiar to be quoted. Johnson came down like a sledgehammer on Scotland and things Scottish. Less familiar, perhaps, is the retort in which a Scotsman scored. An Englishman in Scotland was abusing the country, complaining of the state of the larder and wondering where he could get less to eat.

"I could tell ye a place whaur ye wad get less," said a Scot, who was listening to the tirade. "Where is that?" asked the other. "Oh, just that an Englishman's been!" said the Scotsman dryly.

A FIG AS THE PATRON.

(From Tit Bits.)

Most Lancashire cyclists are familiar with Winwick, a village on the way between Leigh and Warrington, surrounded by good roads, and no doubt many of these wheelers have been struck with the curious effigy of a pig carved in the tower of Winwick church.

It is said that when the church was being built a pig moved the foundation stone three times and at last allowed the stone to remain on the spot where the church now stands. An effigy was therefore placed in the church tower. The words "Winwick," uttered with a nasal twang, resemble the grunt of a pig, and this is also said to give the village its name.

Joseph Weeks Babcock, late of the congress of the United States, has received a loving cup from Washington friends. Filled to the brim with high proof Bourbon and sipped slowly to the bottom it may make the distinguished Wisconsin statesman forget for a moment the swatting he received for trying to "vote" water on each shoulder.

BEATUS HARDFACTS.

"It pays to Advertise" That a great many people have not yet acquired the knack of writing advertisements is evidenced by the following clippings, taken from daily papers:

"Furnished apartments suitable for gentlemen with folding doors."

"Wanted, a room by two gentlemen about 30 foot long and 20 foot broad."

"Nice front room for rent, suitable for single gentlemen with bay window."

"Respectable widow wants washing."

"For sale—A pianoforte, the property of a musician with carved legs."

"Mr. Brown, furrier, begs to announce that he will make up gowns, capes, etc., for ladies out of their own skins."

"Bull dog for sale. Will eat anything; very fond of children."

"Wanted for the summer, a cottage for a small family with good drainage."

"Annual sale now on. Don't go elsewhere to be cheated—come to us."

"A lady wants to sell her piano as she is going abroad in an iron frame."

But, After All—

A man's life is full of crosses and temptations. He comes into this world without his consent, and goes out against his will, and the trip between the two is exceedingly rocky. The rule of the contraries is one of the important features of the trip. When he is little, the big girls kiss him but when he is grown, the little girls kiss him. If he is poor, he is a bad manager; if he is rich, he is dishonest. If he needs credit, he can't get it; if he is prosperous, every one wants to do him a favor. If he is in politics, it's for pie; if he's out of politics, you can't place him, and he's no good for his country. If he doesn't give to charity, he is a stingy cuss; if he does, it is for show. If he is actively religious, he is a hypocrite; if he takes no interest in religion, he is a hardened sinner. If he shows affection, he is a soft specimen; if he seems to care for no one, he is cold-blooded. If he dies young, there was a great future before him; if he lives to an old age he has missed his calling. The road is rocky, but man loves to travel it.—Bangor Independent.

The Editor's Trust

By the United States mail one afternoon last week we received two circulars—one from the Society of Equity and one on woman suffrage. The last wishes us to reprint something about women, a subject too deep for us to talk about, and the first also wanted free use of our columns in advising farmers to hold their potato crop until October, and get a better price for them. Where they'll get it, of course, no one knows, but that's aside from the subject—we are going to organize a union too! Between the paper trust, Standard Oil, butter, railroad, grocery, and myriads of other trusts, the consumer has little to be troubled about, except paying the bills—and we do hereby invite all consumers to correspond with us in regard to the consumers' trust we think of organizing. Send us your names and, from the first fifty we will select the officers, collect the dues, and "buck" the rest of them. Hurry, now, before the other trusts get ALL your money.—Tomah Herald-Monitor.

BED SLAT FOR LONG.

(Milwaukee Sentinel.)

And now comes the admirable John Burroughs, the foremost of living American nature writers, and takes a hand in the fray started by our worthy president's warm magazine article on "nature fakers." As a result of the onslaught of the venerable Burroughs the Rev. Mr. Long may as well consider himself crushed.

The reverend Long, it may be remembered, read the presidential roast of "fakers" who tell lies to children about animals, tried on the cap, found it a good fit, and forthwith rushed into print with a counterblast scoring Mr. Roosevelt as a game butcher and no naturalist.

Those who have read the president's books and articles on the subject must see that Mr. Burroughs is right in describing him as a "naturalist plus a sportsman." Whether he is right in flying the excited Long as a "faker and a menagerie naturalist" who has done his hunting in sporting magazines and park zoos, we are not prepared to say.

But in the impending encounter we pin our faith to the grand old man of nature writing, who knows a hawk from a heronshaw and a grizzly bear from a "Teddy," and we counsel Dr. Long to get under cover, now that a real naturalist is after him, as Mayor Busse would say, with a bed slat.

The Chamcleon.

I saw her first, a debutante,
Last winter in the town,
We sat upon the stair, and then
I swear her hair was brown.
I met her on the Ardley links,
Spring skies were overhead,
No veil obscured her lovely face,
Her locks were surely red.

We next encountered at the beach,
She had another fellow,
Beneath her baby hat of lace
Her tresses glittered yellow.

And now the season's at an end,
My eyes behold, alack!
This giddy maid's abundant braids
Are glossy raven black.

All Right.

William Archer, the English critic, was advocating spelling reform at a dinner in New York.

"I believe," he said, "that reformed spelling would be unanimously adopted if the public would weigh the matter with an open, unprejudiced mind."

He paused and smiled.
"But no," he said. "The public's attitude is such that it brings vividly before me an episode that I once heard related in London by Justice Darling."

"The justice, as the trial of a certain case was about to begin, started and said suddenly:

"But there are only eleven jurors in the box. Where is the twelfth?"

"The foreman rose and held up his hand with a soothing gesture.

"It's all right, your honor," he said respectfully. "The twelfth juror man had to go away on business, but he has left his verdict with me."—

A little of the philosophy of an old

Janitor's Good Memory

Of the late genial and kindly hearted
Henry Burch it is told that a good many years ago, while he held the position of janitor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, the minister one summer Sunday morning delivered a sermon which, it appears had been given by him once before, perhaps two or three years previous.

On the Sunday in question, and during the progress of the sermon, a violent thunderstorm came up which created some little nervousness among the congregation.

After the services were over, and as the minister was about to leave the building, he met the janitor.

"Henry," said he, "that was a pretty severe storm while I was preaching this morning."

"Yes, Mr. Burch," replied Henry,
"and there was a thunderstorm the last time you preached that sermon."

The Great Alaskan Story
BY REX BEACH

Copyrighted by Rex E. Beach

"Gentlemen, there ain't no better way to save fine gold than with undercurrents an' blanket riffles. I'll have to wash these garments of mine an' clean up the soapuds 'cause there's a hundred dollars in gold-dust clingin' to my person this minute." He went dripping up the bank, while the men returned to their work singing.

After lunch Dextry saddled his bronco.

"I'm goin' to town for a pair of gold-scales, but I'll be back by supper, then we'll clean up between shifts. She'd ought to give up a thousand ounces, the way that ground prospects." He loped down the gulch, while his partner returned to the pit, the flashing shovel blades, and the rumbling undertone of the big workings that so fascinated him.

It was perhaps four o'clock when he was aroused from his labors by a shout from the bunk-tent, where a group of horsemen had clustered.

As Glenister drew near, he saw among them Wilton Struve, the lawyer, and the big, well-dressed tenderfoot of the Northern—McNamara—the man of the heavy hand.

Struve straightway engaged him.

"Say, Glenister, we've come out to see about the title to this claim."

"What about it?"

"Well, it was relocated about a month ago." He paused.

"Yes. What of that?"

"Galloway has commenced suit."

"The ground belongs to Dextry and me. We discovered it, we opened it up, we've complied with the law, and we're going to hold it."

Glenister spoke with such conviction and heat as to nonplus Struve, but McNamara, who had sat his horse silently until now, answered:

"Certainly, sir; if your title is good you will be protected, but the law has arrived in Alaska and we've got to let it take its course. There's no need of violence—none whatever—but, briefly, the situation is this: Mr. Galloway has commenced action against you; the court has enjoined you from working and has appointed me as receiver to operate the mine until the suit is settled. It's an extraordinary procedure, of course, but the conditions are extraordinary in this country. The season is so short that it would be unjust to the rightful owner if the claim lay idle all summer—so, to avoid that, I've been put in charge, with instructions to operate it and preserve the proceeds subject to the court's order. Mr. Voorhees here is the United States marshal. He will serve the papers."

"Hold on! Do you mean to tell me that any court would recognize such a claim as Galloway's?"

The law recognizes everything if his grounds are no good so much the better for you."

"You can't put in a receiver without notice to us. Why, good Lord! we never heard of a suit being commenced. We've never even been served with a summons and we haven't had a chance to argue in our own defence."

"I have just said that this is a remarkable state of affairs and unusual action had to be taken," McNamara replied, but the young miner grew excited.

"Look here—this gold won't get away. It's safe in the ground. We'll knock off work and let the claim lie idle till the thing is settled. You can't really expect us to surrender possession of our mine on the mere allegation of some unknown man. That's ridiculous. We won't do it. Why, you'll have to let us argue our case, at least, before you try to put us off."

Voorhees shook his head. "We'll have to follow instructions. The thing for you to do is to appear before the court tomorrow and have the receiver dismissed. If your title is as good as you say it is, you won't have any trouble."

"You're not the only ones to suffer," added McNamara. "We've taken possession of all the mines below here." He nodded down the gulch. "I'm an officer of the court and under bond—"

"How much?"

"Five thousand dollars for each claim."

"What! Why, heavens, man, the poorest of these mines is producing that much every day!"

"The place to argue this thing is before Judge Stillman," said Struve—but with little notion of the conflict going on within Glenister. The youth yearned to fight—not with words nor quibbles nor legal phrases, but with steel and blows.

And he felt that the impulse was as righteous as it was natural, for he knew this process was unjust, an outrage. Mexico Mullin's warning recurred to him. And yet—

He shifted slowly as he talked till his back was to the door of the big tent. They were watching him carefully, for all their apparent languor and looseness in the saddle; then as he started to leap within and rally his henchmen, his mind went back to the words of Judge Stillman and his niece. Surely that old man was on the square. He couldn't be otherwise with her beside him, believing in him; and a suspicion of deeper plots behind these actions was groundless. So far, all was legal, he supposed, with his scant knowledge of law; though the methods seemed unreasonable. The men might be doing what they thought to be right. Why be the first to resist? The men on the mines below had not done so. The title to this ground was capable of such easy proof that he and Dex need have no uneasiness. Courts do not rob honest people nowadays, he argued, and moreover, perhaps the girl's words were true, perhaps she would think more of him if he gave up the old fighting ways for her sake. Certainly armed resistance to her uncle's first edict would not please her. She had said he was too violent, so he would show her he could lay his savagery aside. She might smile on him approvingly, and that was worth taking a chance for—anyway it would mean but a few days' delay in the mine's run. As he reasoned he heard a low voice speaking within the open door. It was Slapjack Simms.

"Step aside, lad. I've got the big un covered."

Glenister saw the men on horseback snatch at their holsters, and, just in time, leaped at his foreman, for the old man had moved out into the open, a Winchester at shoulder, his cheek cuddling the stock, his eyes cold and narrow. The young man flung the barrel up and wrenched the weapon from his hands.

"None of that, Hank!" he cried, sharply. "I'll say when to shoot."

He turned to look into the muzzles of guns held in the hands of every horseman—every horseman save one, for Alec McNamara sat unmoved, his handsome features, nonchalant and amused, nodding approval.

It was at him that Hank's weapon had been levelled.

"This is bad enough at the best. Don't let's make it any worse," he said.

Slapjack inhaled deeply, spat with disgust, and looked over his boss incredulously.

"Well, of all the different kinds of damn fools," he snorted, "you are the kindest." He marched past the marshal and his deputies down to the cut, put on his coat, and vanished down the trail towards town, not deigning a backward glance either

RURAL ROUTES CAUSE INSANITY

JUDGE SAYS CASE OF RUSTIC LIV-ING MAKES INCREASE

FARMERS' WIVES AFFECTED

Judge Suggests Old Spelling Bee as a Remedy for the Condition

MANITOWOC, Wis., May 27.—That the establishment of the rural mail route has had a tendency and influence in increasing the proportion and number of insanity cases in the rural districts is the claim of County Judge John Chloupek of this city who made this assertion when asked to explain the gradual increase of insanity cases in this and surrounding counties. During the last quarter there have been more insanity cases before the Manitowoc probate court than any corresponding period since the establishment of the court.

Judge Chloupek said: "I think the rural mail route is doing more than anything else to cause the increase in insanity in the country. Before that was inaugurated people gathered at the postoffice, at the country store, at the neighbors, at any place, but they gathered. People saw more of each other; now they get their mail every morning; everything is brought to them; they lead a secluded life, sometimes not seeing any one for many days. It is the loneliness of the thing that drives people to the madhouse."

"The farmers' wives are the ones more particularly affected by this new condition, the rate of insanity is increasing at a rapid rate in the rural communities, and especially in this true among the women. In our last report the proportion of women cases was much greater than that of the men, an unusual case, and one that attracted my attention to the matter. Nine out of ten cases in this country come from the country district."

"The country mail route has come to stay and some remedy must be provided to counteract its influence on the minds of its patrons. It appears that everything nowadays combines to keep the farmer isolated and make him stay at home by taking away his excuses for getting a change of scene. "What would I suggest as a remedy? Well, I would suggest the greater use of the school house for a rendezvous for the farmers, more public meetings, the old spelling bee revived, debates, anything to get people together where they can associate, converse; anything to break the monotony of their present secluded existence."

DEPUTIES KEEP HANDS OFF

After Being Isolated for More Than Two Years Dietz Shakes Hands
With His Friends.

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis., May 27.—After having lived in a little world of his own for more than two years, during which time he has been constantly on his guard against attempts to arrest him John Dietz walked into Winter yesterday afternoon.

He was accompanied by his son Clarence. Before they had been in town half an hour the populace was out to welcome the two men, volunteering to furnish news of the outside world and to give the father and son what assistance they could render. Dietz and his son were unarmed and appeared to have no fear of legal action looking to the possession of the famous Thornapple dam.

The farmer fighters said that they had merely come to town to buy provisions and hear the latest news. Practically every resident of Winter gathered around the two men and the crowd included members of the posse recently organized by Sheriff Clark to capture Dietz.

The visitor was willing to relate the facts about his fight against the lumber company and seemed as confident as ever that he would eventually win the struggle. He said that he had friendship for friends who came to his farm, but had bullets for any who sought to serve legal papers or wrest his property from him. He ridiculed the recent grand jury's action and laughed at the stories that he was insane.

Dietz does not take seriously the declaration of Sheriff Clark that he will raise a posse of 100 men to capture him, and said that the sheriff's efforts would but end in another amusing farce.

Dietz remained in Winter for two hours and at his departure announced that he expected to make frequent visits. In the meantime his friends informed him that they would watch out for the arrival of strangers and by means of telephones Dietz, upon approaching town, will be warned of any danger.

THE PONY OUTLOOK

Not a Year of "Class" Is This, Say Turf
Sharps.

Rarely are running horse experts downcast at any phase of a season's outlook early in the year. The true turfman is a hopeful critter. He has to be or else he would soon die of nervous prostration. But this year several of the veteran forecasters say that the class of racers that will predominate will be below that of most previous years. They do not look for any new records of importance, but they do say that financially the present campaign will prove highly successful owing to the large number of entries in and because of the liberal manner in which the public is patronizing the various tracks.

Among the horses looked on as certain to prove successful winners are Roeben, the able sprinter owned by Davy Johnson; Salvidere, the champion two-year-old of last year, owned by Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., and Peter Pan, Masks and Faces, Kudroki and Bohemian owned by J. R. Keene. Masks and Faces began winning at Benning.

Mr. Keene led the list of winners last year and is looked on to repeat the same "trick" this season. He has the biggest and most imposing stable.

Jockey Charlie Koerner, whose home is in Louisville and who was one of the sensations of the Pacific coast last season, is in New York with his contract employer, Wayne Joplin. Koerner will ride for Harry Payne Whitney during the metropolitan racing season in addition to riding for Mr. Joplin.

Ormondale, winner of the Futurity of 1906 and of the Broadway stakes at Gravesend, New York, last year, will probably never race again. He was retired after the Fall handicap at Sheepshead Bay last fall and spent the winter at John Hynes' farm in Stamford, Conn. A few days ago he was sent to Matt Allen, who is handling the Ormondale stable's horses this year, to be trained. Allen has decided that the colt will not stand training, and in a short time he will be shipped to Kentucky to be used for breeding purposes.

Ormondale defeated a high class field when he won the Futurity and was considered the best runner that Ormondale, "the horse of the century," ever sent to the races. His dam was Santa Bella. Ormondale is expected to prove a great success as a sire.

The English running race campaign is on in earnest, and the best horses

PETER PAN, ONE OF J. R. KEENE'S WINNERS. In the big events, as "doped" out by a famous London authority, are as follows:

Keystone, Troutbeck, Spearmint, Polymelus, Sleeve Gallion, Traquair, Polar Star, Galvani, My Pet II., Dean Swift, Mintagon, Velocity, The White Knight, His Eminence, Rocketter, Gold Blach, Ramrod, Succor, Bezonian, Fra Diavolo and Hillsprite.

After much persuasion the Naval academy authorities have obtained the consent of John M. Cates, Yale end of 1906, to return to the academy next season as field coach of the football team. Cates acted in that capacity for the victorious team of last season and was greatly liked by the navy contingent. He has accepted a business position at South Bend, Ind., and did not expect to return to the academy, but after strong efforts he consented to return next season. Lieutenant Joseph M. ## M. P.'S TRIPLETS.

(London Mail.)

Mrs. Ellis W. Davies, wife of the liberal member of parliament for South Carnarvonshire on a Sunday recently gave birth to triplets—all boys. This is the first occasion on record that the wife of a member of either house has presented her husband with triplets, and in the commons yesterday there were many inquiries for Ellis Davies, but it was learned that he had obtained leave of absence from the whips for a week. Telegrams in scores were being sent off to him with a testimonial in honor of the rare event, first mooted by the more frivolous of members, was being taken up with enthusiasm.

Mr. Davies, who is a solicitor, and was born at Bethesda, was returned for the Elyon division of Carnarvonshire in June, 1906. Mr. Davies says he has no intention of applying for the King's bounty. The event has naturally created a great deal of local interest, and at the Liberal club of which Mr. Davies is a prominent member, a wag suggested that "all night sittings" would now have no terrors for the member for South Carnarvonshire.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 27.—An elderly man, whose name is believed to have been Daniel Haley, was killed in the Union depot yards at 12:45 yesterday, by being run down by a Great Northern transfer engine.

It is said the man saw the engine approaching and tried to cross the track ahead of it but was too slow. He was a man about 65 years of age and from papers found on his clothes, it is thought that he was an old soldier.

The name "Mrs. Thomas C. Haley, 566 Decatur street," was found on a slip of paper.

Haley had been in the city only a few months and had been employed by the Tri-State Telephone company and by a grocery firm.

ROB SALOON OF $260

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 27.—Charles Meske, saloonkeeper, 785 Park street, left his bar, as two strange guests bade him, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. He went into the kitchen. When he was about sitting at a table in the saloon, met him at the door leading from the kitchen. Meske heard the rattle of money on the floor in the saloon, and he saw one of the men who had ordered lunch running out of the saloon with his hands full of gold, silver and paper money.

Meske was delayed by the third man, whom he had to knock down before he could pursue the thieves, who got away with $260. Both of the robbers ran up a hill toward National avenue. One was caught in the basement of a house in process of construction.

FIRE IN ORPHANAGE

Scare Sunday Morning Result of Chimney Blaze

A bad fire scare occurred at the Boy's orphan asylum, between Ninth and Tenth on Winnebago street, Sunday morning. No. 3 department responded to the alarm. One of the large chimneys caught fire and for a minute it seemed other parts of the building would be ignited by the sparks.

The company extinguished the flames before any serious damage was done.

A class P2 passenger engine, 2526, one of the large new type, was sent out from the Burlington shops this morning, after having been thoroughly overhauled.

FLY TO PIECES

The Effect of Coffee on Highly Organized People

"I have been a coffee user for years and about two years ago got into a very serious condition of dyspepsia and indigestion. It seemed to me I would fly to pieces. I was so nervous that at the least noise I was distressed, and many times could not straighten myself up because of the pain. "My physician told me I must not eat any heavy or strong food and ordered a diet, giving me some medicine. I followed directions carefully, but kept on using coffee and did not get any better. Last winter my husband, who was away on business, had Postum Food Coffee served to him in the family where he boarded. "He liked it so well that when he came home he brought some with him. We began using it and I found it most excellent. While I drank it my stomach never bothered me in the least, and I got over my nervous troubles. When the Postum was all gone we returned to coffee, then my stomach began to hurt me as before and the nervous conditions came on again. "That showed me exactly what was the cause of the whole trouble, so I quit drinking coffee altogether and kept on using Postum. The old troubles left again and I have never had any trouble since." "There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville." in pkgs.

At the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Baseball association team Saturday night Emil A. Erickson was elected manager and a committee composed of R. Green, L. Holmes, A. Larson and R. Buchda was appointed to assist him in the selection of the team to represent La Crosse against Ontario Memorial day.

WARMER, HE SAYS

Flickering Hope Rises at This Prediction

At last La Crosse is to have warmer weather. The weather man's prediction is for fair and cooler tonight with rising temperature tomorrow.

Frost is expected in some parts of the state tonight but the temperature will rise tomorrow.

The wind yesterday reached a higher velocity than it has for some time. The greatest speed recorded here was twenty miles an hour.

The highest temperature today was 50 degrees and the lowest 38 degrees.

Observer Thompson in discussing the general weather conditions in the country says:

An area of high pressure and cool wave covers the districts from the Rocky mountains to the Mississippi river, and freezing temperatures are reported as far south as Kansas. Areas of low pressure are located east of the lake region and in the extreme southwest, with a moderate depression north of Montana. This pressure distribution favors generally fair and continued cool weather in this section tonight with frost, followed by fair weather with rising temperature Tuesday. Showers have been general from the Mississippi valley to the Atlantic coast, with high winds in northern states. It is snowing this morning in Michigan and raining in Montana; elsewhere the weather is fair.

BARBERS WANT A WEEKLY HOLIDAY

TROUBLE IS THREATENED IN
THE LOCAL UNION

STATE ORGANIZERS ARE HERE

At Meeting Tonight Attempt Will Be Made to Smooth Over Difficulties Resulting from Condition

At the meeting of the Barbers' union to be held this evening in connection with a meeting of the Master Barbers' association, an attempt will be made to straighten out the difficulties between La Crosse journeymen barbers and the bosses.

Troubles in barber circles originated with the salary raise. Some time ago when the barbers increased their prices from ten to fifteen cents, a raise was granted the journeymen, from twelve to fourteen dollars per week.

Barbers in several of the shops previous to this raise had been enjoying a half holiday each week. Now that the raise has gone into effect, some bosses are getting even by cutting off the holiday. Hotel Stoddard barbers who have been getting the new scale and the holiday also, excited the envy of the other barbers to such an extent that two organizers of the state Federation of Labor are now in the city attempting to smooth over the difficulties. All barbers want the holiday.

F. Keeler, who is the state organizer and Mr. Stewart of Milwaukee, will be present at the meeting this evening.

North Side Yardmaster G. F. Morelli of the Burlington attended a wedding in Galena, with his family, yesterday.

SEN. LA FOLLETTE

that the man to whom he had listened not only had the right side of the big questions, but that he was promising timber for a national republican leader.

Leaders in the movement believe that sentiment favoring a Wisconsin delegation in the next national republican convention for La Follette has been smoldering in Wisconsin for months, at least ever since there has been mention of names of well known republicans who may be candidates before the convention. Occasionally there have been flashes of this sentiment, as well known La Follette supporters have given interviews, and the men who are behind the movement for a La Follette delegation believe that the plan will meet with instant and pronounced support.

About two months ago W. J. McElroy, Edward J. Gross and Frank P. Wilbur met at the residence of Mr. McElroy for the purpose of discussing the wisdom of attempting an organization for the purpose of securing the Wisconsin delegation for Senator La Follette. It was decided to call a meeting of representative Wisconsin republicans for the purpose of taking a measure of the sentiment.

Madison Man Says Bob Was for Hatten

MADISON, Wis., May 27.—An appointive state official, who resides in Madison, is making a tour of the state, going into every assembly and senate district, in an attempt to get support for Lieutenant Governor Conner for the long term in the United States senate. Whether or not he will get Stephenson's help is not known.

A gentleman who claims that he knows what he is talking about declares that Senator La Follette did not support Stephenson for the senate, but instead threw his support to Hatten.

Th most astonishing feature of the whole contest, the gentleman in question declares, is the manner in which the people of the state were fooled into believing that La Follette really supported Stephenson.

Stephenson himself knows that La Follette played false with him.

HARRIS TO FIGHT MURPHY

MOLL

Crosse, played Sunday, May 19th, 1907, at La Crosse, Wis., and at which game Left Fielder Dolan of the Oshkosh Baseball club assaulted Umpire Sweeney, knocking him down, wish to enter our emphatic protest against allowing Mr. Dolan to play in the State league after he had been suspended and fined, without our first having made a thorough investigation of the matter.

The undersigned make the following statement concerning this matter: At the game played May 18th, 1907, Manager Buser, after having called the umpire a vile name in the 10th inning, was benched. In the game played the next day, every close decision and many that were not close were objected to by the Oshkosh players and finally in the seventh inning a decision made by the umpire, and which was clearly right, was objected to by the first baseman, and half a dozen of the Oshkosh players gathered around the umpire and commenced kicking and striking him, and among them were Schreiner and Berghouse, and it culminated in Dolan, who had come clear in from the left field, striking the umpire in the face and knocking him down. There was not a La Crosse player nearer than the bases and Manager Hawley sat on the La Crosse bench. During the trouble the police went on the grounds and after the assault the offending player was pointed out by the manager of the La Crosse club and he was taken in charge by the police. Then the Oshkosh players, and in particular Manager Buser, indulged in all sorts of threats and abusive language.

The undersigned further represent that many of the patrons of the ball club in La Crosse have besieged this board and have represented that unless adequate punishment is imposed upon Player Dolan, they will withdraw their patronage and do all they can to injure the association at this point. If not to stop us from playing on Sunday altogether.

The citizens of La Crosse have been particularly aggrieved in this matter by the wholly false and malicious attack made upon the baseball club of the city of La Crosse through the Oshkosh newspapers, in particular the Oshkosh Northwestern, upon the alleged statements of Manager Buser.

We take this occasion also to remind you that it is the particular pride of the board of directors and management of the La Crosse Baseball association to treat the visiting clubs as our visitors and guests, and give them every consideration that is due them, and that we tolerate no rowdism or abuse of the players from the grandstand or from any of the patrons of the game; and much less do we tolerate or allow our players or our manager to treat the visiting clubs in this city in any other manner than in a spirit of fairness, and we do not encourage or countenance poor work on the part of the umpire either in giving the worst of it to us or to the visiting clubs. But we are reliably informed that this treatment is not accorded to our club in other cities, and particularly in Oshkosh where, when a game was played a year ago, pop bottles and other dangerous missiles were hurled at the players from the grandstand and bleachers.

We make our protest not so much on account of the offense committed, because that could be handled by the courts, but for the effect it will have upon rowdism the rest of the season in allowing a player of the stripe of Dolan and of the stripe of Buser to convert the great American baseball game into a shameless, rowdy, pugilistic encounter.

And we further make this appeal and protest for the reason that baseball discipline will be thoroughly disorganized by such rulings. The umpires will be discouraged and their rulings and decisions will be set at naught by rowdy players. We feel that your decision in allowing Mr. Dolan to play on probation has done a great injury to the game and especially in this city where the prospects for a successful season never appeared to be better. We take especial pains at this time to represent to you in a spirit of fairness that we believe Mr. Sweeney is the most competent, impartial and fearless umpire that we have had since the organization of the league, with one exception, and that was Mr. Pickett, who umpired last year. And we believe that Mr. Sweeney's work will be approved by every club in the league before the season is over, unless it is the club from Oshkosh who will try to justify their outrageous conduct at La Crosse.

We therefore appeal to you on behalf of the lovers of the game of this city, and other cities of the league, to suspend Mr. Dolan for a sufficient length of time to make his punishment a warning to any other players or managers in this league who see fit to conduct themselves as rowdies instead of gentlemen.

Respectfully submitted,

DEFENDS THE GIANTS

Pulliam Says New York Club Is Not Responsible

NEW YORK, May 27.—Harry C. Pulliam, president of the National league, has issued a statement defending the New York players against criticism in the Chicago series. He calls attention to the fact that but one New York player has been removed from the game this season, and says:

"The New York management is doing all in its power to co-operate with me in ridding the games of objectionable features, and it should not be condemned for the action of a few roughs in a crowd of 20,000 who took advantage of the denial of police protection to the home club, a condition which does not exist in any other city of our circuit."

"In cases where players of the New York club have transgressed the rules they have been disciplined without fear or favor, and there will be no deviation from this policy in the future."

BRITT AND GANS FIGHT

Frisco Fighter to Meet Negro Champ at 133

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 27.—Jimmy Britt has signed an agreement with Coffroth to fight Joe Gans at 133 pounds, ringside stripped. The battle will take place probably at Colma, and the men will fight for a percentage of the gate receipts. They will receive 60 per cent of the receipts, which they will split 65 and 35, or any way they arrange between themselves. Sept. 9 is the date fixed for the contest. This is a state holiday and the fight will take place in the open air.

Coffroth said that he had not seen Selig, Gans' manager, but was acting under a verbal promise. There is no doubt that Gans will gladly accept the chance to fight Britt.

SEASONABLE NOTES.

Soft Silks and Satins Best For Wedding Gowns—Bertha Collar.

At present the great preference for all soft silks and satins is marked. This is especially the case in wedding gowns, as the soft satins drape and hang more gracefully. Of course these soft fabrics require more trimming than the others, but that also is the mode this season.

Lace veils are not in as great demand as formerly, for they are so hard to arrange artistically. Nevertheless a handsome lace veil is infinitely richer than one of tulle and if put on the hair in a fetching way will usually take care of itself.

Plain colored silk sunshades of good quality and with pretty wood handles are now offered at extremely reasonable prices. Some are marked as low as $1.50, while for another dollar one may get a beauty.

The bertha collar is becoming to every childish figure and in some form or another is this season an addition to nearly every frock. The models are without number, and they are formed from every material and trimmed with all sorts of lace and embroidery.

In all smart hat models the front brim is short and the back brim is long. This seems to be as universal as anything in fickle fashion's domain can be. It is so radical a change that it is not easy for the eye to become accustomed to it.

The simple little frock illustrated herewith is of that kind in which the youngster is happiest and which the wise mother provides in generous numbers. It is made of ring dotted batiste, with trimming of embroidery, but it is susceptible to infinite variation.

Being very close-fisted, Mason had never allowed himself the costly habit of smoking. He always felt himself a loser when any one treated to cigars. But on one occasion, when the party he was with entered a stationery and cigar store, he made up his mind to have his share in the treat.

"Won't you have a smoke this time?" asked the leader.

"No, thank you, replied Mason; 'but, if you don't mind, I believe I'll take a pencil.'—Harper's Weekly.

CROP PANIC IS TO BE AVOIDED

CONDITIONS BAD, BUT THERE IS TIME TO MEND

SCIENTISTS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Statistics are Not Entirely Reassuring, But Proper Care in Tillage Will Save Corn.

(By J. C. Welliver.)

Washington, May 25.—(Special) That it is too early in the season for a panic over crop conditions in this country is the general opinion of the scientists who, observing crop and climate conditions for the government, have the best information on conditions covering the entire country.

It is conceded, however, that conditions thus far this spring have been altogether bad. The "green bug" which has appeared in Texas, Oklahoma and southern Kansas, and to a less extent elsewhere, is not a new discovery. The entomologists are familiar with this brute. The fact is that this green bug is a regular institution. It comes every year, and is always a menace. In nearly all years there comes along with it a little wasp with an unpronounceable Greek name, which eats up the green bug. But it happens that the green bug can hatch, live, thrive and eat up the wheat in very bad weather, while the wasp is unable to get busy until favorable weather sets in. This year is one of the exceptionable seasons when the green bug has been allowed a long start on his deadly enemy, and he has been putting in the time destroying the winter wheat.

The area thus affected, however, is a very small proportion of the total wheat district. Against this the scientific observers set off the fact that in 1905 there was raised about 10,000,000 bushels of the new Durum or desert wheat, in 1906 this was increased to 60,000,000 bushels, and that from all indications there will be an immense increase in the acreage this year. This Durum wheat grows in regions with 10 inches of annual rainfall, and has been a Godsend to farmers of the semi-arid plains. It is expected, in short, that the increase in the Durum wheat yield this year will make up largely the deficit in the crop of winter wheat, and that when the harvest comes in the fall there will be a surprising approximation to an average output.

Canada Crops Short
The Canadian plains, however, are likely to have a short crop from present indications. There has been sleighing in the wheat country of the British possessions within a few days, and everything indicates that the crop will be sadly curtailed by the backward weather.

Despite the cold weather, there is not yet serious concern about grass or corn, the two greatest crops. Grass has been slow, but it will soon catch up when the weather gets warm. Corn has been favored by the fact that, while it has been generally dry in the corn belt, permitting thorough plowing of corn lands. It is pointed out that the corn shortages are caused almost always, not by late springs, but by early frosts in the autumn. Corn is therefore considered safe enough for a fair yield, unless the autumn shall be as early as the spring has been late, which is altogether unreasonable.

High Wheat Prices
With an average or anything like an average wheat yield in this country, it is calculated, the shortage that threatens in all other parts of the world is likely to make prices very high. The United States stands to come nearer an average crop than any other important wheat country, thanks to the Durum acreage. Oats and barley and spring wheat are not considered especially threatened as yet, though a continuance of present backward conditions would be unfortunate for them and would greatly shorten the yield.

Can Save Corn
As to the corn crop, it is pointed out that since the last corn failure there has been a revolution in the methods of raising this grain. Today, ground is more carefully prepared for it than ever; better judgment is used in rotation of crops, a constantly increasing proportion of corn being raised from plowed-up pastures, which raise the very best corn. Finally, and most important, the thorough selection and testing of seed corn has been adopted by almost all farmers, and has been in progress for several years. As a result this process of selection for a series of years has greatly improved the average quality of the corn, and has so greatly increased the prospect of yield that a slump of 20 per cent in weather conditions would probably be made up by the improvement in the quality of the seed and conditions of culture.

WESTERNERS FOR SCHRECK

German Picked to Win Fight With Marvin Hart.

TONOPAH, Nev., May 27.—With the date of the Hart-Schreck fight drawing nearer each day, money on the Louisville fighter is becoming plentiful, and there is every indication that this bout will excel even the Gans-Nelson battle as a betting proposition. Fight fans here who have seen Mike Schreck in action against Willie believe him the conqueror of Jeffries, and are backing the big German for almost any amount. Those who watched Hart and Root mix it in Reno think well of the Louisville fighter, and thus betting has become brisk.

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

S. S. S. is recognized everywhere not only as the best of all blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics, but the one medicine that can be taken with absolute safety by everyone. Young or old, those in robust health, or those whose systems are delicate and run-down, may use it with the same good results, and equally without fear of any unpleasant or injurious after effects. Next in importance to removing the cause of any disease is the condition in which the system is left after a course of medical treatment. Medicines containing mercury, potash or other strong mineral ingredients often do permanent injury by eating out the delicate lining and tissues of the stomach, producing chronic dyspepsia, unfavorably affecting the bowels, and so deranging the system otherwise, that even if the original disease had been removed from the system it is left in such a weakened and deranged condition that the health is permanently impaired. S. S. S. enjoys the distinction of being the only blood medicine on the market that does not contain a mineral ingredient of some kind. It is made entirely of the healing, cleansing extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks gathered directly from the forests and fields of nature, under our own supervision, and when they reach our laboratory contain all their original valuable tonic and blood purifying properties. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that S. S. S. contains a particle of mineral in any form. Being made entirely from these vegetable ingredients S. S. S. is absolutely harmless to the system, and while curing disease adds health and strength to every part of the body. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood troubles by removing the cause and supplying the circulation with health-giving and strength-producing qualities.

WON'T SHOVEL SNOW

Marquette Laborers Refuse to Handle It All Summer

MARQUETTE, Mich., May 27.—Men employed by the Sparrow Kroll Lumber company in extending a railroad spur quit work because, as they put it, they didn't want to shovel snow all summer. That was exactly the trouble. They have been compelled to shovel snow ever since they went on the job, and they are tired of handling it.

The Consolidated Fuel and Lumber company had a similar experience earlier in the week at a wood camp near Summit. The gang employed there quit, because they, too, were tired of laboring with the snow. With no prospect that the woods will be clear at an early date, the oldest settler remembers nothing quite as bad as the present spring.

The confectionary and cigar store of John McCambridge, 1820 George street, is reported to have been broken into and fruit, cigars and a few pennies stolen.

O. Molstad, 1416 Caledonia street, is making improvements on the interior of his building.

Heavy Selling and Weak-Kneed Cables Cut Out Some of Advance at Steady Close

La Crosse Stock & Grain Commission Company
CHICAGO, Ill., May 27.—There was a wild and excited opening in wheat this morning. Enormous commission house buying early caused an advance of 3 cents on reports of frost in Kansas and continued talk of prohibition of export from Russia and Roumania. Selling on the advance has been heavy by the longs and early buyers. Northwest receipts were not up to expectations. The market is firm, absorbing offerings very readily.

The July closing Saturday was 100½. It jumped from 101 to 103½ went down to 102 for a few minutes and finally closed at 101½. September opened at 102, rushed to 104, then back to 102½. December was up to 105 but went back to 103. Prophecies that wheat will go to 150 are common.

RAILS ARE LAID FAST
Peter Fischbach Sets the Pace on Milwaukee

Peter Fischbach, foreman of the section crew of the La Crosse division of the Milwaukee road lays rails at a faster rate of speed than they are being laid on Caledonia street.

He ordered his crew to tear up the main line this morning, just south of the north side station, and had it all relaid with new rails in time for the No. 55 passenger train, which pulled in, on time, at 10:35 this morning.

The officials have been complimenting Mr. Fischbach upon his system of working.

The Caledonia street railway track will, no doubt, be in by Thursday so that the track can be used for the Decoration day crowds.

The delay has been due to the rain and the installation of the sewer system.

The exact cause of the wreck could not be ascertained.

THEY FOUGHT

with forces that make for evil is but to war against Almighty God. The Prince of Peace did not go away from the earth until He was wounded in the great war with evil powers, and bears forever in His flesh the marks of the great conflict, whereby He won His great victory. As long as sin and selfishness exist with power to control the hearts of men so long will war be known and sacrifice be found necessary to save a nation or a people for Righteousness.

"As truly as God promised His people in ancient times, 'I will make them one nation,' so He sent forth His fiat in the days of '61 and He demanded the sacrifice and led forth to battle the army that was to accomplish His purpose.

A Righteous Cause
"Members of the Grand Army, your services are distinguished not only by your courage and your victories and the consummation of our national hopes and the preservation of our national ideals, but your cause was a righteous cause and the fulfillment of a Divine purpose."

"I am well aware that in these times of peace, when common business and practical affairs and the pleasures of this luxurious age hold public attention that there is apparently little sympathy or interest given the deeds of a past generation. We have national sins that have always been a reproach to our people. The sins that spring chiefly from the narrowness and selfishness of individualism. We find a marked tendency to measure values chiefly by dollars. To the man of the world the G. A. R. recalls a most expensive pension list. Again there are millions who have emigrated to this country since the war, who hardly know or care anything about our history. In American families the history of our nation is not read as much as the Bible and the cause of patriotism as well as religion suffers thereby. I, however, feel that I am justified in my confidence that the American people have the soul of a great patriot devotion as any people who ever lived on the face of the earth; that beneath the calm expressions of this unemotional character, formed in the hard practical conditions of this industrial age there is the spirit that is as mighty as that aroused by the call of Lincoln in '61.

"Comrades of the G. A. R. there are times when you doubtless feel that you have outlived the days when your service was appreciated and that the fires of patriotism have grown so dim that they are as dying embers on the national altar, but believe me, that centuries after you have joined your comrades in the great beyond, Memorial day will perpetuate your memory and future generations will read of your deeds and sing your praises and learn with reverence the deep lesson of your devotion to a righteous cause.

Righteousness Exalted
"Righteousness exalteth a nation." At the time this was written and for centuries afterward it was the common belief that only wealth and force of arms could exalt a nation. But today we know that all the powers of tyranny in church and state were fostered by the might of money. It was used to bribe enemies and buy mercenaries and maintain the pomp and luxury of the monarch and his court. History shows that nations have been degenerating while their treasures were heaped with gold and their ships were on every sea of the known world. Magnificent cities have been captured and destroyed by an enemy as poor as they were strong and brave.

When a nation has disregarded the moral law and the honor of the family and the claims of justice; when accumulated wealth and self-indulgence it can magnify have been considered the only means of making life worth living, the nation has weakened and declined and ultimately perished.

Rich Not in Gold
"A nation is great not because of its wealth but according to the breed and disposition of its people. It is the goodness of the human heart, the purity of human blood, the faith, the fortitude, the courage and devotion of sons and daughters that brings glory to the nation. Its true wealth is not in the veins of mineral in the earth, but in the veins of rich red blood in the flesh of its citizens. As one has said, 'The end of civilization is not measured by money, but by men,' and men devoted as far as in them lieth to the cause of righteousness.

Seek Righteousness Cause
"From earliest times it has been the common opinion that the true glory of the nation could only be gained by the battles and the victories of the army or navy; that it was the power of the nation."

When, however, we consider the history of nations and judge calmly of the records of great wars and the achievements of great conquerors we cannot shut out the horror of the cruelty and oppression, the lust and greed and deadly malice that we know is in it all; and we hasten to justify our admiration for the results of conflict by seeking some righteous cause. It is not war any more than it is money that exalts a nation. It is not the victory of the nation's armies, the mere fact of sacrifice of blood and treasure in a great conflict that exalts a nation. It is war for the right, it is for the triumph of justice, it is the struggle for the common welfare and the sacrifice for righteousness' sake that exalts a nation.

And so we seek to justify ourselves today. We want to assure ourselves that we glory in the results of a war for a righteous cause and that we honor the men of an army that fought for nothing less than the integrity, yea, the salvation of our national life.

Two Great Figures
"As we look into the past we see two mighty figures that stand for the meaning and the purpose of the two great wars in our national life. The one is Washington and the other is Lincoln. I have said enough in speaking of these two men to justify our war record before the world and be-

NO DOUBLE SESSIONS

There has been some talk recently of holding two school sessions daily,
a long morning and long afternoon session for the remainder of the term lier than usual. Superintendent Bird, however, says no such action is contemplated.

Half day sessions are now in force and will continue to the regular close of the school year.

DR. TALKS OF FOOD

Pres. of Board of Health.
"What shall I eat?" is the daily inquiry the physician is met with. I do not hesitate to say that in my judgment, a large percentage of disease is caused by poorly selected and improperly prepared food. My personal experience with the fully-cooked food known as Grape-Nuts, enables me to speak freely of its merits.

"From overwork, I suffered several years with malnutrition, palpitation of the heart, and loss of sleep. Last summer I was led to experiment personally with the new food, which I used in conjunction with good rich cow's milk. In a short time after I commenced its use, the disagreeable symptoms disappeared, my heart's action became steady and normal, the functions of the stomach were properly carried out and I again slept as soundly and as well as in my youth.

"I look upon Grape-Nuts as a perfect food, and no one can gainsay but that it has a most prominent place in a rational, scientific system of feeding. Any one who uses this food will soon be convinced of the soundness of the principle upon which it is manufactured and may thereby know the facts as to its true worth." Read
"The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

CONDEMNED BRIDGE FALLS INTO RIVER

STRONG WIND TEARS DOWN
ROTTED TIMBERS

CONDEMNED BY SUPERVISORS

Residents of Vicinity Gather Parts for Firewood, as Rebuilding
Is Out of the Question.

The old Onalaska wagon bridge over Black river which was condemned some time ago was blown down yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, when the heavy gale loosened up some of the rotten beams and allowed it to drop into the river. A large crowd gathered soon afterward.

The pieces of the bridge are being gathered up by residents in that vicinity, who will use it for firewood as the bridge will not be rebuilt.
The bridge had been out of use for some time.

COMPLICATION

Miss Stella Johnson, aged 18 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sivert Johnson, 1209 Avon street, passed away yesterday after a lingering illness. Death was due to a complication.

Miss Johnson was well known on the north side and had a large circle of friends, who sympathize with her very much.

Everything possible was done to prolong her life but without avail.
The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon from the Bethel
Lutheran church, on George street,
Rev. O. L. Christianson officiating, and interment will be made in Oak the Tabernacle Baptist church also gave an address.

Rev. Larson accepted the new pastorate at La Crosse on the first of
May. He had been pastor at Glass Grove, near Albert Lea, for the past fourteen years.

BANGOR TEAM QUILTS

Onalaska Takes Game in the Rain by 15 to 5

Bangor and the Onalaska team played an interesting game of ball yesterday afternoon on the diamond at Onalaska during the rain.

They threw up the sponge in the seventh inning and gave the game to the locals by a score of 15 to 5.

The game was very interesting throughout. The battery for the locals was Walker and Dana.

The Onalaska team will go to West Salem next Thursday where they will play during the afternoon.

The West Salem team, it is understood, expect to "wipe the earth" with the Onalaska team, and then beat Bangor.

BADGERS VICTORIOUS

Defeat Ramblers on Errors
on Indian Hill Sunday

The Badgers defeated the Ramblers on the latter's grounds on Indian hill yesterday by the score of 5 to 2. The game was hard fought from first to last and a few costly errors told the tale. The batteries for the teams are as follows:

Badgers—Sundfinger and Whipple; Ramblers—Ambrose and Goodenough.

The north side baseball team will play with the Colts on the George street grounds Memorial day.

BARBERS MEET TO CONSIDER PRICES

MATSDORF SAYS HE WILL NOT BE FORCED INTO IT

NORTH SIDE MAN OBDUROTE

Claims His Trade Would Quit if He Signed Agreement—He Will Defy "Boss" Barbers

The La Crosse Barbers' union will meet again this afternoon for the purpose of getting the few men who still refuse to join their ranks into the union.

Charles Matsdorf of Gillette street, is the only man who is now out, all the other men having signed the new scale and joined the union.

Mr. Matsdorf seems to be very firm in his determination to remain unmoved in his conviction to open his shop under his own scale of wages, and as he pleases. Independent of any union. He says that he will not have anyone dictate his business affairs, and that he does not believe in the so-called "Barbers' believe in the so-called "Boss Barbers."

He claims that as he has the majority of the Burlington trade he can very easily run independent of the union and will favor his trade by so doing, as they would rather come to him with their business than go elsewhere. He says, "In case I do join the union these road men will stop at Savanna or other cities along the line for their work and I will thus lose their business entirely."

He says that it is the plan of the barbers to raise the price of haircuts to 35 cents in the near future, to make up for the cut on the price of a massage from 25 cents to 15 cents.

Mr. Matsdorf says that he has been doing good business for four years and making a fair living, and that does not intend to join the union and drive his business away.

TAIL OF A MINK

THAT IS WHERE MYSTERIOUS
BLONDE HAIR PROVES
TO ORIGINATE

Upon investigation the blonde hair pulled up near the Black river wagon bridge by Wren Blanchard, supposed to be that of a mink,
has found to be the tail of a mink.

John Brabant had some hair lodged upon his fishhook in the same manner some time ago.

Wren Blanchard of 1017 Caledonia street, had a tuft of it caught upon his fishhook while angling there Friday.

His friends now consider the matter a huge joke, but Mr. Blanchard says he will not fish in the vicinity of the Black river bridge again.

in Sioux Falls only Tuesday of

Gund's Peerless Beer

This famous brew foams with life and sparkles with strength. Because of its distinctly superior qualities it won gold medal at St. Louis (1904) against all competitors. The clear juices of choice barley malt and finest hops brewed and combined by the celebrated Gund Natural Process. Containing only about 3 3/4% of alcohol Peerless is a splendid temperance beverage.

It is everywhere regarded as par excellence, "the home beer."
Doctors recommend it because they know its simple and natural ingredients rectify the stomach and make the liver laugh with joy.

Bottled at brewery only. Sold everywhere. The best bars keep it because the best people call for it. Ask for it tomorrow at lunch.
